

Homework 1 (Veatch)

What is Veatch's main thesis? (1 point)

Veatch discusses two different problematic "false-positives": what are they, and why is each morally troubling? (3 points)

There are several options considered in the article for that "which is essentially significant to the nature of humans"; what are they? Pick one and explain a concern that Veatch raises for it. (2 points)

Pick one of the criteria from the Harvard report that Veatch addresses: Explain it fully. What concerns does Veatch have about the use of this criterion? (2 points)

What are your thoughts after reading the Johnson article? How do you think the hospital should have acted in Jahi's case? If you think the hospital should have done anything differently, explain why. (2 points)